c. The Office of Security is responding to a Department of Justice request that the Agency review Philip Agee's most recent book Dirty Work. The book contains the names of some 710 Agency employees, of which approximately 100 had not been previously exposed. If we can ascertain that Mr. Agee was able to identify any of these 100 persons through the use of special knowledge which he gained as an Agency employee, and if the Agency is willing to confirm the employment of a number of these individuals, the Department of Justice may seek an indictment of Mr. Agee. If he is indicted, the Department of State will be able to cancel his passport, thereby limiting the number of countries from which Mr. Agee may operate. (S)

d. The Communist-controlled Athens daily newspaper Rizospastis published an article on 6 May 1979 containing the names of 76 alleged CIA employees and/or agents said to be operating in Greece. Priority research is under way to determine if any true Agency assets have been compromised and, if possible, to notify them of their exposure. (C)

e. During the week a status report on the reinvestigation of Agency supergrades reflected 85 percent of these individuals (100 percent of Office of Security supergrades) have now had appropriate reinvestigation within the past five years. Within 90 days we expect this figure to reach 92 percent. The remaining individuals will be afforded reinvestigations routinely as they return from overseas assignments. (C)

f. On 6 May, a two-man team departed for [REDACTED] to conduct comprehensive physical security and personnel protection surveys of five Stations. Another team departed on 8 May to survey five Agency facilities in [REDACTED]. In response to a Directorate of Operations request, one of the team members will also [REDACTED]

① Several newspapers have recently published articles alleging that the Agency has withheld pertinent information from Congress relating to the extent of compromise of our satellite intelligence programs resulting from the Boyce/Lee espionage case. The articles alleged that Boyce had access to and was able to reveal to the Soviets information concerning our photographic satellites when in fact he only had access to information relating to SIGINT satellite programs. As a result of these newspaper articles, both the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence (SSCI) and the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence (HPSCI) requested copies of the Agency debriefing of Christopher Boyce and the damage assessment done by the Directorate of Science and Technology (DDS&T) following the debriefing. The Office of Security has made copies of the transcripts of the Boyce debriefings available to SSCI and HPSCI, and the DDS&T is providing copies of the damage assessment. (S)

No On the morning of 9 May 1979, External Activities Branch received a telephone call from an Office of Personnel representative, who stated that the Office of Personnel had received a legitimate inquiry from a former employee. The inquiry was on CIA letterhead stationery.
